

Green Capital Presents...

WASTE WARS

A GARBAGE POLICY or POLICY THAT'S GARBAGE?

Environment Ministers have demanded that the revised National Packaging Covenant (NPC) improve its performance and set ambitious new targets. NSW and other states will make decisions on extended producer responsibility for several products in 2005.

The community has lost patience with industry; they say it is continuing to dodge responsibility for the products and packaging waste they create. Industry strongly defends its programs and asks for more time to solve complicated problems.

It's decision time. What is effective public policy? Regulation, voluntary programs and product stewardship are the areas of contention.

So leave your weapons at the door as Green Capital brings together stakeholders to see if an agreement can be reached.
